Resilience: Survive to Thrive

52nd Annual Fall Seminar
October 11-12, 2018
Holiday Inn Airport Convention Center
Little Rock, AR
www.arrx.org/fall-seminar

Pharmacy Colleagues,

The past year has provided many challenges from a pharmacy perspective, such as unprecedented drug shortages, significant regulatory changes, and reimbursement changes just to name a few. The healthcare environment is continuously changing and as pharmacists and technicians, we need to adapt as well. This requires innovation, flexibility, and at times courage. When faced with challenges and new opportunities, we must be resilient! Resilience is the theme for AAHP Fall Seminar 2018.

This year as our keynote speaker, we will hear from ASHP Director of Federal Regulatory Affairs Jillanne Shulte. She will provide insight from a national perspective regarding all of the challenges we face in the world of health-system pharmacy today. Additionally, we have speakers providing continuing education on topics such as USP 800, Pharmacist Well-Being, and Antimicrobial Stewardship. In total, you will have the opportunity for 10+ hours of CE. Additionally, we will once again provide programming specific for new practitioners, residents, students and technicians.

As always, we look forward to the Residency Showcase, Poster Session, Roundtable Discussions, and the Vendor Exhibit Hall. We invite you to join us in Little Rock at the Airport Holiday Inn on October 11-12 for AAHP Fall Seminar 2018.

David Fortner, Pharm.D., BCPS
2018-2019 AAHP President
